The MoneySCard

The NMSU MoneySCard, a feature of your I.D. card, is a prepaid declining balance account. It is available for students, faculty, and staff who wish to avoid carrying cash for food, vending, laundry at residence halls, convenience stores, special events ticket office, copies at the Corbett Center Copy Center, and bookstore purchases. This program is available through the I.D. Card Office and can be purchased in varying amounts over $15.

NMSU ID Card

The NMSU I.D. card serves as the primary source of student identification for the campus. The I.D. card, with an appropriate activity sticker, serves to admit students to athletic functions of NMSU. It also provides for use of certain student services and allows for check cashing privileges. The I.D. card serves as a membership card for meals, the MoneySCard, and as a key in some residential buildings.

Student Special Care Policy

To ensure the safety and well-being of our students, NMSU may, on occasion, require that students receive a particular type of care or treatment (i.e., emergency medical attention, live-in attendants, or vaccinations) as a condition of continued enrollment or eligibility to reside in university-operated housing. When this care or treatment is required by the cognizant university administrator, the student will be obligated to assume any financial responsibility associated with the treatment.

Furthermore, the university may, on occasion, contact a student's parents, legal guardian, or spouse in cases of extreme emergency, or where a possibility of imminent harm exists. This will occur only when, in the judgment of the appropriate official, the best interests of the student and the university will be served.

When practical, the university will notify the student, in writing, of the university's intention to undertake the steps authorized by this policy. This decision may be appealed by the student to the Vice President for Student Services within 24 hours of notification. The appeal should be in writing and clearly state the reasons why the student objects to the proposed action. The vice president will review the facts in the case and convey the decision to all parties within 48 hours. The vice president's decision shall be final.

DISTANCE EDUCATION

Distance Education (DE) at NMSU is defined as the formal education process of delivering instruction so that students physically remote from the campus of program origin and/or instructor may participate. Students who live a significant distance away from the main campus or have scheduling conflicts due to family or work obligations often find distance education as the best solution to educational advancement. The NMSU Office of Distance Education is here to serve these students.

Distance Education Delivery

Distance education undergraduate degree programs at NMSU are delivered using both technology and face-to-face instruction at off-site locations such as NMSU branch campuses. Degrees are listed below according to their primary delivery method. For complete information, please visit the Office of Distance Education website at www.nmsu.edu/distance.

Bachelor's Degree Completion Programs

All undergraduate degree programs offered through NMSU Distance Education are Bachelor degree completion programs. These programs require that students have all lower-division (100 and 200 level) credits completed before admittance into the program. DE Bachelor degree completion programs normally require two years of 300 and 400 level upper-division coursework to finish.

Technology-Based Programs

Distance education programs listed under this category are delivered primarily using distance learning technologies. In some cases, programs may require brief residencies on the main campus for orientations, assessment, etc. Technologies used to deliver distance education at NMSU include:

- WebCT (Web Course Tools): Enables an instructor to integrate the Internet into delivery of a course.
- Centra: A synchronous web delivery solution for conducting virtual or "live" classroom events through the Web.
- NMSU Media Services: Provides course delivery through cable television, satellite, teleconferencing, and more.

Courses may use a “blended approach” to instruction integrating two or more types of technologies above to promote engaging and effective learning.

Bachelor's Degree Completion Programs

- Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Sociology
- Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA)
- Bachelor of Human and Community Services (BHCS)
- Bachelor of Informational Communication Technology

Off-Site/Extension Programs

Distance education programs listed under this category are delivered primarily face-to-face at off-site/extension locations. Often, these courses will enhance instruction and learning with technology. Programs are located at NMSU two-year completion, the NMSU Albuquerque Centercampuses, and other locations throughout the state. The degree completion programs below are available at one or more off-site/extension locations.

Bachelor's Degree Completion Programs

- Bachelor of Science (BS) in Elementary Education
- Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN)

Outcomes Assessment

As part of its continuing effort to maintain quality academic programs and to provide strong support services, NMSU routinely conducts outcomes assessment activities. Students may be required to participate in one or more of these activities (for example: capstone courses or exams, exit interviews, and standardized tests). The data resulting from these assessments will be published only in aggregate form.

All students, faculty, staff, NMSU retirees, and commercial vendors who park in restricted areas on campus or on campus streets must obtain and display an NMSU parking permit or pay at a parking meter or park in one of the free parking lots/areas. The individual in whose name a permit is issued or who owns the vehicle(s) will be responsible for any violations of the Parking and Traffic Regulations. Additionally, all motor vehicle statutes of the State of New Mexico apply.

Parking permits are required 24 hours a day. After 4:30 p.m., any permit may be used to park in the faculty/staff and commuter student parking lots. All zones (e.g., disabled, service, emergency/fire, no parking, postal parking, etc.) and signed areas are enforced 24 hours a day.

Veterans' Programs

NMSU degree programs are approved by the appropriate State Department of Veterans' Affairs (State Approving Agency) for enrollment of persons eligible to receive education benefits from the Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA).

For further information concerning approved programs and application process, eligible persons should contact the Veterans' Programs Office at Jacobs Hall, Room 214 or at (505) 646-4524 or through email at va@nmsu.edu.

Students must be pursuing a degree in a specific program to be eligible to receive benefits. Admission procedures for veterans and other eligible persons are the same as those for other students. Students who do not satisfy all requirements for full admission may be certified for two terms; however, they may be required to repay the DVA for some or all benefits received if they do not achieve full admission status during that time.

Title 38, United States Code, requires that education assistance to veterans and other eligible persons be discontinued when the student ceases to make satisfactory progress toward completion of the training objective. The DVA will be appropriately notified of the unsatisfactory progress. A specific request must be submitted by the student to reinstate benefits. The DVA will determine eligibility for reinstatement of benefits.

Students are responsible for notifying our office of any change in their enrollment or any change in personal information affecting their eligibility. Students also must remain in compliance with university and DVA requirements. Students may receive education benefits only for courses that are required for their designated degree program. Students who receive DVA benefits are subject to strict academic regulations and should be aware of how auditing courses, repeating a course, failing courses, changing degree programs or enrollment status, and other actions may affect their eligibility to receive benefits.

IP also advocates for effective practices, policies, and procedures to internationalize the university. The major program areas of the Office of International Programs are:

Foreign Student & Scholar Programs and Services—IP serves more than 750 students from approximately 70 countries and coordinates the exchange visitor program for scholars. It provides admission coordination and processing, orientation, personal counseling, support for student associations and community volunteers, and special services for sponsors. Cooperative Education Program

NMSU enjoys a national reputation for its Cooperative Education Program, which contributes to students' total educational experience and realization of career goals by integrating academic theory and practical application. Co-op assignments provide varied work experiences with employers from business, industry, government, and nonprofit organizations. Students may also develop specially tailored co-op assignments.

Students can register for the alternating plan, usually working a minimum of two work phases throughout the U.S. or abroad; each phase may last up to eight months. Work phases are separated by semesters of on-campus classroom instruction. Note: While on alternating work phase, students are afforded full-time status with the university, whether or not they are enrolled for credit.

Continuous enrollment can be maintained through the parallel plan, working 20-30 hours per week concurrent with classroom instruction. Employers are generally located within commuting distance of the university. In addition to gaining academically related work experience, co-op students establish positive work ethics, receive remuneration for their educational experiences, and also may arrange for course credit through an academic department. In some instances, where co-op work assignments are either not available or are not appropriate for specific students' needs, information is available on internship opportunities offered by government, nonprofit organizations, and business/industry. During the summer months and throughout the academic year, internships may be arranged for academic credit. Internships are not always paid.

Another alternative to the Cooperative Education Program is summer employment, which may or may not be career related. Working during the summer affords students the chance to earn additional income and gain valuable work experience without affecting their academic schedules.

For further information, contact the Cooperative Education Program at MSC 3509, NMSU, P. O. Box 30001, Las Cruces, NM 88003-8001, call (505) 646-4115, or email coop@nmsu.edu. Program particulars may be viewed at www.nmsu.edu/pment.
